After discussions with the ABHI group, the BSIR has made the decision to limit sponsoring companies to simple and informal stands or exhibition areas in the form of table tops, banner stands, furniture areas or display cabinets etc for 2018 and 2019. Our main objective is to reduce the overall cost of stand builds and ask our sponsors to redirect any savings to an educational grant fund so that our BSIR faculty and delegates can attend the scientific meeting. We fully understand that the release of these funds cannot be guaranteed by our sponsors, however, we remain optimistic and humbly ask our sponsors to fully engage in this subsistence programme for the betterment of the meeting. An educational grant will ultimately generate, and increase the value of, the educational content provided, during and after, the ASM.

The BSIR is committed to administering this subsistence programme to faculty, BSIR members, SIRNR group and delegates. In addition, the BSIR this year will extend support to the registration of presenting registrars at BSIR and continue to run; the Case Study Scholarship Awards for junior doctors with an interest in IR, the Medical Student F1 F2 Dr Essay Award Scholarships and the BSIR/BSIRT Trainee Day programme. The BSIR is committed to working with industry to achieve a successful scientific meeting ensuring a productive and cooperative outcome for all for 2018 and future meetings. For more information on our revised stands, please see our BSIR 2018 Exhibition Information, available on the BSIR website.
